

EXPRESS START - DATAMART

Ensure your datamart environment is implemented correctly and efficiently, then you can start benefitting from the stellar reporting that data marts enable

Express Start Datamart will educate your IT personnel on the concepts behind datamarts and data warehouses. During this 3 day program our Professional Services representative will work with your IT staff to create the appropriate environments, host configurations and trouble-shooting methodologies to meet your defined critical success factors. In consultation your team, they will examine your production environment to ensure it is prepared for the first 'production' effort. We will develop and deliver a data mart template based on your critical success factors to assist in future efforts.

Datamart Architecture

The most critical aspect of a datamart or data warehouse is to understand the need for a corporate-wide strategy and architecture. Using our data mart scoping methodology we will determine if your chosen architecture will meet your critical success factors.

The Administrator Program

This portion of the program includes an overview of the MBF-UDALink features, functions and benefits that relate to building a datamart. You will be instructed in the most expedient method of access and extracting data to populate the datamart. Sample FD files will be provided. We will review the process of updating databases as part of the program. The administrator will be instructed in the process of creating "loader" files for populating the datamart. Sample loader file will be provided.

Host Configuration

General instruction will be provided for establishing connections to your data servers and creating User ID's for individual or groups. Instruction will be given in how these User ID's can be further customized to provide or inhibit access to data as required. User Tables that define which areas of the database are available to which users will be covered in this module. Setting up environments that grant read only and/or write privileges to your database will also be covered.

Proof of Concept

MB Foster Services Professionals will provide you with the education and tools to take your datamart project to production. The technical knowledge gained at your site will enable our Customer Service staff to provide top notch support should the need arise.
